Comments: The car park is nowhere near big enough to support the amount of customers that a fleet of bikes the size of theirs will attract. Overspill parking is nonexistent and will make the surrounding area dangerous (already is on busy days). The need for a cycle hire is already met at either end of the trail by 2 successful and respected businesses. A cycle hire here is pure greed, trying to steal a quick buck from established local businesses. This is the perfect place for a public car park, cafe and shop for the trail users to stop off at, or start their days activities from. Road to the station is not suitable for the numbers that it will attracted.
