Comments: The current appearance of the windows is very poor and something needs to be done to bring them back to the style of the building. Since the building was built in the 1830s it is clearly impossible to restore the windows with 'original glass' as nobody makes glass commercially as they did in the 1830s (not the least of which is I believe that it would be illegal due to the lead content). The replacement glass proposed seems ideal and would also assist with the statutory directive for councils to improve energy conservation
