Comments: Whilst I do feel that Buxton would heavily benefit from a wider variation of shops, public spaces and activity centres (i.e. a cinema, some more high-street name clothing shops like TK Maxx), I feel that the plans and designs submitted do not reflect on the towns beauty and history, which so deserves to be honoured. I feel that keeping in line with the current architecture will encourage more visitors, wishing to visit a picturesque old English town. I feel that we have the potential to become the Bath of the Midlands, but this would squash that and make Buxton look like every other modern town centre. Additionally, the town would benefit from more public toilets (free) and more parking as it is already very difficult to find a space.
