Dear Mr Morton,

Thank you for your email and apologies for the delayed response, I have been away on a period of annual leave.

In relation to your proposal to utilise permeable asphalt, even if the surface was porous to address the matter of surface water drainage, given the likely extent of new surfacing it is considered that the proposal would represent an engineering operation and therefore would still require planning permission.

I hope this helps to clarify the position and allows you to progress your proposal.

Kind regards,

Alex Bonser Planning Officer
