Comments: The proposed plans for the redevelopment of Buxton Springs Centre are unsympathetic to the heritage of our town. The use of coated steel to build the apartments is out of keeping with the surroundings. The apartments should be built in stone as per the planning requirements for the MacDonald's built near the station. C&C are cramming too many cheaply built apartments into a small area to maximize their profits, the reduction in car parking spaces from 400 to 200 with a substantial increase in the number of apartments they want to build will also cause significant parking issues in the town centre and may ultimately lead to the closure of many shops which are heavily relied on by elderly members of our community including Waitrose.
