1.0 Introduction

This statement forms part of the proposals to add a garage door to the existing garage at 44A Hadfield Road and divide the garage into two units

2.0 The Existing Building

The stone and brick garage was originally a two storey tall garage however it collapsed in the 1940s and part of the front elevation was re-build with brick. The garage was originally on the same title deed before being split off with various property sales. The access to the garage is via timber garage doors from Hadfield Cross and a small rear door from the garden of 46 Hadfield Road. The part of the garage making up this application is in the ownership of 44A Hadfield Road.

3.0 Heritage significance

The garage sits within the Hadfield conservation area which was designated in April 1994.

4.0 Elements of the new design

Adding a new garage door to the existing frontage

The garage door will match the existing door into the garage in style and material. The timber garage door will be sympathetic to the garage and not have an adverse impact on it or the surrounding area.
